WTU SUPPORTS LOCAL CHARITY

Calls on other unions to do the same

WASHINGTON, D.C. (November 17, 2011) – Washington Teachers' Union president Nathan A. Saunders presented a check and canned food items this morning in support of WHUR-FM Howard University Radio's annual Food 2 Feed Drive. During the live broadcast, Saunders called upon other union leaders to do the same.

“WTU is pleased to support this great cause for those in need. Our teachers are not only committed to our students, but also to their communities. I call upon other union leaders to do the same and give back during this holiday season.”

For more than three decades, WHUR FM has hosted the annual Food 2 Feed Drive to feed those in need in Washington, D.C.

WTU is an advocate for communities in need and encourages all union leaders to join together to fight hunger in the District of Columbia.
